Memorandum:

To: A. C. of S., G-1, thru
Colonel, Werner,
Executive, G-1.

1. The Casualty Study Report for the 34th Infantry Division is submitted herewith.

2. Tabulations for this study were done by the 34th Infantry Division and the 9th Machine Records Unit, and submitted to this Section where the computations, analysis and preparation of the final report were done with the assistance of Research Personnel on Temporary Duty from the Morale Services Division, Army Service Forces.

3. The letter of transmittal which accompanied the tabulations submitted by the 34th Infantry Division is submitted with the Report.

4. The 34th Infantry Division estimates that the tabulations and consolidations done by the Units and Headquarters of the Division required the time of two officers for a total of 60-hours, and of 104 enlisted men for a total of 1,008-hours. It was found necessary at this Headquarters to do over a substantial part of the consolidations done by Division Headquarters.

5. It is not possible to report figures for returns-to-unit and replacements in this report because returns to duty from rest centers and inter-unit transfers within the Division were included in the tabulations submitted by the Division. It was felt that sufficient information could be obtained from the reflection of net gains and losses in the fluctuations of daily effective strength of the 34th Infantry Division, and from the returns-to-unit and replacement experiences reported by other Divisions, so that it would be unnecessary to require the retabulation of these data from unit Morning Reports.

To : Commanding General, Fifth Army, APO-464, U. S. Army.

1. Inclosed herewith, in duplicate, a casualty status report for this Division for the period from 21 September 1943 to 25 February 1944, as directed verbally by your headquarters, on or about 3 March 1944.

2. The report is sub-divided into three (3) sections as follows:

a. Section I. Report by each day of the period, by number of Battle Casualties, Non-Battle Casualties, Return to Unit Personnel, Replacements, and the Effective Strength. Section I is further divided as follows:

(1) Each Infantry Regiment, (3), Separate.

(2) 100th Infantry Battalion (Sep), (Attached to 133d Infantry Regiment.)

(3) Headquarters and Headquarters Battery, 34th Infantry Division Artillery and the four (4) Field Artillery Battalions, consolidated.

(4) All other units of the Division consolidated as "Others".

b. Section II. Report for the period by number of non-battle casualties by rank or grade. Technicians are grouped with their corresponding non-commissioned grade.

c. Section III. Report for the period, by number of all non-battle casualties, by military occupations specialty number, by branch.

3. All of the information contained in the inclosed report was extracted from retained copies of unit Morning Reports and required long and detailed checking. The consolidation by this headquarters required the employment of nine men and took over four days. Such statistical information is not normally required and was not otherwise available.

4. It is recommended that if such information will be required in the future, that Machine Records Unit be directed to preserve the information when the daily unit morning reports are processed, as a part of their standard operating procedure by a system similar to their present procedure on Battle Casualty Reports.

5. Request acknowledgement of receipt of the inclosed reports.

For the Commanding General:
