

23 During the night of the 22d, a German withdrawal north of La Spezia was observed by Air Force reconnaissance planes. Prisoner information confirmed this observation. All battalions sent out patrols to maintain contact.

Co L attacked Mount Nebbione at 0330, and occupied Mt Nebbione against scattered resistance. Five prisoners were taken. A counterattack in platoon strength was repulsed. By 0830 the mountain had been cleared and secured. The town of Fosdinovo was occupied by elements of the 473d Infantry, on the left flank, without resistance. Co K remained in Tendola during the night and at dawn began to mop up the German defenders. Mortar fire helped the riflemen. At 0600 the 1st platoon, fighting in the South section of the town, had occupied 25 houses. The 2d and 3d platoons, coming in from the North against stubborn resistance, had 3 men killed. The two attacking forces joined at 1030. 13 prisoners were taken and heavy casualties inflicted on the enemy.

Co I moved out of Pulica at 1000 with the 2d platoon as advance guard. The company crossed Mount Nebbione, following Co L, and moved to Mt Carbolo at 2000 and dug in. A reconnaissance patrol from the 3d platoon, sent out at 2045 to Ponzonello, was met by sniper fire.

In order to exploit the German withdrawal and reach the regimental objective, a special Task Force was formulated. The force consisted of Cos B and Co F, with a tank detachment, and was under the command of Major (then Captain) Fukuda, Executive Officer of the 100th Battalion. The mission of the task force was to move deeply and quickly into the enemy lines, seize in turn Hill 652 (Cle Dei Cerra), Hill 603 787159 and push on to Mount Grosso, (Hill 663) South of AULLA. The Task Force formed and departed at 1400, with Company B in the lead. The 3d Battalion was readied to follow up in the path of the TF.

Co E was ordered to take San Terenzo. The 3d platoon attacked Hill 303, flanking the town, and the 2d platoon fought in from the South. Simultaneously Co G attacked Hill 270 East of San Terenzo. The enemy force, consisting of Italian Fascist soldiers with German officers and non-coms, 3d Bn, 1st Bersaglieri Regt, was surrounded. 115 prisoners were taken in San Terenzo, together with 6 artillery radios, 30 bicycles, 25 horses and mules, a "300" radio and 2 telephones. 40 enemy were killed. Co G on Hill 270 took 20 prisoners, killed 8, captured 4 machine guns, 1 mortar, 2 automatic rifles and 9 rifles. The companies dug in on the hills, and 1 platoon of Co E pressed on to take Hill 295 north of San Terenzo.

Co A sent a reinforced platoon to patrol Mount Calasciaio, near Vizzanello (876169); and another reinforced platoon went to Mt Nungoli. The rest of the company remained on Hill 578. Contact patrols were maintained with Co G at Posterla. C Company sent patrols to the town of Bardine. At 1600, Companies A and C were relieved and began to assemble as regimental reserve. Anti-tank Co moved up and took over positions on the right flank of the regiment, on Hill 578.

The Germans had evacuated Fosdinovo and the town was entered during the day by elements of the 473d Infantry.

24 Information from officer prisoners of war indicated that the 3d Battalion, 1st Bersaglieri Regiment, had been destroyed at San Terenzo in the preceding day's fighting.

The total of prisoners taken by the 442d Infantry from 5 April to 24 April, not including those turned over by partisans, was 707, as of 240900.

Task Force Fukuda set out at daybreak in pursuit of the retreating Germans. Company F passed through Co B and took the lead in the attack. The Force cleared Csta dei Cerri (Hill 603) at 0900, Hill 603 at 1000. They marched rapidly to the objective Mt Grosso, secured it at 1200. From there the Force moved Northeast, entered the towns of Vecchietto at 1300 and Bibola at 1400. This ten mile march across the mountainous terrain put Fukuda Task Force immediately South of the regimental objective, the city of Aulla, an important road junction on the main enemy escape route.

The 2d Battalion attacked at 0830, with Cos E and G marching in a column of companies. No resistance was encountered. Pack mules were used to carry arms and equipment. They passed through Villa, Ceserano and turned West against Aulla. At 1630 the battalion reached Pallerone, South of Aulla on the Aulella River.

The 3d Battalion remained in place occupying Mt Nebbione and Tendola. Co I on Mt Carbolo sent a squad from the 1st platoon to the town of Ponzanello. The squad checked the town, found no enemy, and the 1st platoon moved in and set up a defense.

The 100th Battalion remained in regimental reserve at Carrara. The troops enjoyed rest, showers and hot food. SSO show D'Artega and Orchestra was enjoyed by the troops.

The Regimental forward CP moved up to Tendola during the day.

25 The town of Aulla fell on the 25th. At 0600 the Task Force and 2d Battalion attacked. Small enemy pockets on the outskirts were cleared, and the town was occupied without resistance. Enemy dead lay in the streets and materiel and equipment were found scattered about by our supporting bombardment.

After the fall of Aulla, the Task Force units reverted to the control of their parent battalions. The 2d Battalion was relieved by the 3d Bn, 370th Infantry, and moved back to an assembly area near Sarzana. The 3d Battalion likewise moved back, and the 100th Battalion moved from Carrara to the assembly area during the morning. All units were maintained on an alert status.

During the day reports were received that the German retreat, under pressure of our advancing forces and harried by partisans behind the lines, was becoming disorganized. Late in the day the 100th Battalion was motorized and set out in pursuit of the enemy up the Ligurian Coast towards Genoa. The battalion crossed the IP at 2230 and rode to Borghetta, which it reached at 0230 26 April, and where the battalion spent the night.

26 Rapid advance continued on the 26th. The 100th Battalion continued on to Carasco, slowed only by blown bridges and road demolitions. The 3d Battalion left reserve at Sarzana at 1530, and moved by motor convoy to the city of Chiavari, on the coast, where the troops of the battalion slept in trucks. Motorized patrols were active probing for enemy pockets. Because of the extended and rapid movement necessary, the transportation problem became acute.

2d Battalion spent the day in reserve at Sarzana, and made preparations to move forward. During the day, the Regimental forward CP moved up to Sestri.

27 The mission of the regiment was to outflank Genoa. Operational instructions issued at 0300 on the 27th ordered the 100th Bn to seize the town of Busalla, cutting Genoa from the North, and then to close the pass near Isola del Cantone. The 3d Bn was to take the West portion of Genoa and seize and garrison the high ground Northwest of the city.

The 100th Battalion left Carasco at 0130 after three hours rest in order to reach Busalla, above Genoa. After riding for 17 miles the troops were forced to march because of road damage and blown bridges. The battalion marched seven miles, reached Scotta Colla, where they occupied high ground and dug in there for the night.

3d Battalion left Chiavari at 0400 by motor convoy and arrived at Ferrada. The trucks were pulled across rivers by means of winches. At every settlement the troops were greeted by cheering crowds. At Bassi the battalion detrucked and marched cross country to Bargagli, approximately 8 miles.

2d Battalion left bivouac near Sarzana and moved by convoy up Highway 1 to Chiavari and bivouacked overnight.

28 The 100th Battalion continued its forced march, leaving Scotta Colla at 0530. The battalion marched 10 miles to Cosalino at which point motor vehicles caught up with the unit and shuttled the troops to the battalion objective, Busalla, 15 miles North of Genoa. Prior to the coming of the trucks, part of the men and weapons of each company reached Busalla on partisan buses and trucks. Busalla was reached at 1430. From there the 100th Battalion rode tanks to the town of Isola del Cantone which they occupied at 1600.

The 3d Battalion marched up Highway 45 for 9 miles to the outskirts of Genoa, where they boarded trolley cars, passed through the town and took up positions on the high ground to the Northwest.

The 2d Battalion, in reserve, after waiting for trucks, moved by convoy from Chiavari to Genoa and bivouacked outside the city at 2100.

The Regimental CP was established in Busalla. Service Company left Carrara on the night of the 27th and moved by stages to Busalla, reaching there at 1400 28 April. Distance covered - approximately 80 miles.

29 The 2d Battalion continued the rapid motorized advance, relieving the 100th Battalion near Isola del Cantone. The battalion moved up the Autostrada, reached the city of Alessandria at 1450, and outposted the town. Approximately 1000 Germans surrendered to the battalion in the city and were put under guard.

3d Battalion continued to hold position on the outskirts of Genoa.

30 The I&R Platoon, with a machine gun section of Co H attached, reached the city of Turin at 0930, entered the city and found it clear. Other motorized patrols radiated from Alessandria and the towns of Asti, Casale, Valenza were occupied. The Brazilian Expeditionary Force made contact with the 2d Battalion at Alessandria.

Co K motorized patrols entered Savona and Ovada without resistance.

As the month closed, German resistance in Italy had been broken. Prisoners were surrendering by units. The regiment was patrolling a wide area. Everywhere the scene of liberation was repeated and our troops were enthusiastically greeted by the civil population.

BATTLE HONORS--Citations of units.....VII

VII..BATTLE HONORS.--As authorized by Executive Order 9396 (sec. I, WD Bul. 22, 1943), superseding Executive Order 9075 (sec. III, WD Bul. 11, 1942), the following units are cited by the War Department under the provisions of section IV, WD Circular 333, 1943, in the name of the President of the United States as public evidence of deserved honor and distinction. The citation read as follows:

2. The 442d Regimental Combat Team (less the 522d Field Artillery Battalion) composed of the following elements:

442d Infantry Regiment,

232d Combat Engineer Company.

is cited for outstanding accomplishment in combat for the period 5 to 14 April 1945 in the vicinity of Serravezza, Carrara, and Fosdinovo, Italy. When the 92d Infantry Division with the 442d Regimental Combat Team attached was ordered to open the Fifth Army offensive by executing a diversionary attack on the Ligurian Coast of Italy, the combat team was ordered to make the main effort of the attack. It was done by executing a daring and skillful flanking attack on the positions which formed the western anchor of the formidable Gothic Line. In 4 days, the attack destroyed positions which had withstood the efforts of friendly troops for 5 months. This was accomplished in the face of skilled enemy forces nearly equal in strength to the attacking forces and who had at least 5 months in which to improve their position. The 442d Regimental Combat Team drove forward, despite heavy casualties. Allowing the enemy no time for rest or reorganization, the combat team liberated the city of Carrara, seized the heights beyond, and opened the way for further advances on the way to the key road center and port of La Spezia and to Genoa. It accomplished the mission of creating a diversion along the Ligurian Coast, which served as a feint for the subsequent break-through of the Fifth Army forces into Bologna and the Po Valley. The successful accomplishment of this mission turned a diversionary action into a full scale and victorious offensive, which played an important part in the final destruction of the German armies in Italy. The gallantry and esprit de corps displayed by the officers and men of the 442d Regimental Combat Team in bitter action against a formidable enemy exemplify the finest tradition of the armed forces of the United States.
